

Board of Trustees vacancy

23rd April 2020

The Scottish Centre for Personal Safety provides empowering Personal Safety, Conflict Resolution and practical self defence training to businesses, groups and individuals but particularly vulnerable people targeted by Hate Crime.

We help female survivors of violence (rape, sexual abuse and domestic abuse); LGBTI groups; ethnic minority groups; and people who are sensory impaired; to name but a few.

Our Charity's mission is to potentially save lives by;

- The provision of practical training and solutions to help people avoid violence and aggression.
- The raising of awareness of the importance of personal safety in Scottish communities.
- The provision of a point of contact for those who are at risk of violence or those seeking advice in Scotland.
- The reduction of the fear of crime throughout Scotland.

Our objective is to simply empower individuals to manage safer lives.

And we sum up our aims and objectives in one, very powerful statement;

"We champion equality, diversity and human rights as defining values of our charity. We promote equality of opportunity for all, empowering every individual to achieve their potential, free from prejudice and discrimination."

Unfortunately, resignations due to ill health have left us now looking for THREE Trustee posts to fill.

The Board only meet in our Centre once per quarter (July, October, January and April of each year) with each meeting only lasting approximately 2 hours. So basically, we are only looking for a minimum of 8 hours commitment per year.

If you are interested in joining the Board of our multi award-winning charity, please get in touch with our Volunteer Executive Manager, Alan Bell at alan@ScotCPS.org.uk and he will answer questions you may have and send you a copy of our Constitution to read over.

Thanking you for your interest, in advance,

A. Bell
